

Hello!

For those of you that don't know me i am Dominique Valadez, but everybody knows me as Dom.

First and foremost i have to thank my lord Jesus Christ, because through him all things are possible. I must also thank my brothers who bullied me around for most of my life, thanks Dreamer, Christian, Laurence. Love you guys. Also my competitor Mary Jane.

I also have to thank everybody that has sponsored me throughout these past years thank you for all of your support, my grandparents Toni and Elaine Edmiston, Shawn Wilson, Smokey Bear Restaurant, Rodney Griego, and Alex Trujillo.

Over the last six years i have played in hundreds of softball games and thousands of practices. I would like to thank these coaches that helped me reach this point in my life.

Coach Rodney Griego who was the first to teach me the game of softball and has believed in me since day one. Coach Ray and Margaret for ruidoso lucky laces, James Robinson and my dad for the capitan cobras for two years, Coach Luis Hernandez wicked fastpitch, Coach David Borunda and Jeremy Salazar with No Fear Fastpitch. Thank you Coach Kenny for that past four years i hope this year is one to remember.

But i must save the best for last, Coach Wiggy. Thank you for all the hours of work; practice, hot or cold freezing in the dark or gym wherever and whenever, pitching, shooting, hitting, dribbling. You always had us working hard. From the bottom of my heart lots of love Coach.

I also wish i would have met coach Pam Allen earlier. You showed me what i was capable of and believed in me every step of the way. I would like to say thanks to CHS i sure do love being a lady tiger. To Clarendon for taking a chance on me.

Mom and Dad thanks for all the support the thousand of miles we have traveled camps in tucson showcases in vegas and el paso tournaments from here to lubbock, carlsbad to las cruces, rio rancho to alamo. It's been an unbelievable journey. I love you guys.

P.S I must give thanks to my girls that have been with me throughout athletics D-Rayn, Cheyenne, and my seniors Dakota, Shelby, Kylie Bug, Adrianna, Maddie and all of my fellow tigers.
